On Sunday, May 7th, from 2-4 p.m., Historic Classical Inc. will be hosting a special program featuring two prominent alumni, a father and son, Judge Joseph Pellegrino and Attorney Raipher Pellegrino, graduates of the Class of 1954 and 1984, respectively. This exciting event will be held at the former High School building, now Classical Condominiums, located at 235 State Street in Springfield.

This highly successful legal team will speak about their careers in the legal field as well as other endeavors, culminating with their experiences and results of some of their landmark cases.

The May 7th event is sponsored by Historic Classical Inc., a non-profit entity created and dedicated to preserving the legacy of the former Classical High School. This lecture is part of a continued series of programs featuring Classical graduates and their accomplishments both locally and around the country.

Judge Joseph Pellegrino, retired is a former justice of the Massachusetts Trial Court and is currently a senior partner at Raipher, PC. Judge Pellegrino brings a wealth of experience and countless years of legal expertise as an attorney and jurist.

Attorney Raipher D. Pellegrino is managing partner of Raipher, PC. As an attorney, Raipher is considered by his clients, peers, and colleagues as a passionate advocate of justice with an innate ability to “think outside the box” and is a charismatic personality as well as a highly seasoned litigator and business person. He is also considered by many as a “great closer of civil cases.”

Classical High School in the Renaissance Revival style was renowned in its day for its exceptional level of instruction. Its architectural grandeur still speaks for itself even today.

In addition to this exceptional lecture, Classical sweatshirts, t-shirts, coffee mugs, and other items will be available for purchase with all proceeds benefiting the Historic Classical series of programs and events as well as the continued funding and operation of the HC Memorabilia Museum located within the school building. While this event as well as most are generally “free” to the public, donations are also welcome and appreciated.

Light refreshments will be provided and ample free parking is available in the adjacent Central Library/Museums parking lot next to Classical.
